METHOD AND APPARATUS FOR DATA INTEGRATION

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Aspects of the present invention provide integration of geographically distributed data. The data can be integrated in a single database. An illustrative embodiment of the invention comprises a tight combination between conventional ETL (extraction, translation, and loading) tools and conventional remote copy functionality used for data backup and recovery.

23273003 v2